

Woods and Waters by BOB BECKER

THAT NEW WISCONSIN FISHING REGULATION.

FISHERMEN who usually spend their vacations in Wisconsin have not been backward about expressing themselves regarding the new regulations governing angling in that state. Apparently they are not very keen for one item in the new laws. The raise in price of the license from $2 to $3 is considered fair enough, but as for that one coupon business—not so good, according to the fishermen. Here is the way H. F. Walliser sums it up:

"You know, I have been going to

STANLEY BREAKS TWO RECORDS IN

Wisconsin for twenty-eight years, staying about six weeks each summer, besides taking about one week during the Fourth of July period for a little get acquainted trip. The license fee you wrote about [$3] is all right, and I think it is not too much for the pleasure one gets out of it, but the one coupon attachment is bad. What are you going to do with the fish on a six weeks' trip around a number of lakes, if you cannot ship them? Most of the fish caught lay on the ice in the ice house until they spoil. Let's try Minnesota for a change; what do you say?"

Well, we can't say anything, H. F., because it's the law, and I suppose the lawmakers felt that this was a good conservation measure.
